COMING LAUNCH OF I&TN

I&TN is excited to announce the imminent launch of its technology platform - FARM2PHARMA.COM. This virtual hub will allow universities and other research institutes to list new and available technology and at the same time, industry to list their requirements with respect to technology. This will be done with the focus on technology from southern Africa and especially medicinal herbs from Africa. This will be a first for Africa and will open the door to international collaboration in this respect.
